SWIMMING POOL TOP ATTRACTION SINCE OPENING

610 Enjoy The New Pool During Fourth Of July Week End

The Fourth of July week-end came in with a big splash at West Liberty.

The new community swimming pool—opened to the public at 11 a.m. July 3—was the top recreational attraction that day, and has been since.

Six hundred and ten tickets were sold during the three-day holiday week-end. A total of 215 enjoyed the new pool Saturday, the same number Sunday and 181 on Monday. Tuesday's ticket sales totaled 154 and Wednesday's 99. The pool was being drained Thursday but will be filled again by Friday evening.

Townpeople composed the largest number enjoying the new pool, but several returning visitors and some rural residents also came in to enjoy the bathing. Visitors also came from Sandy Hook and a few from other nearby towns.

And everyone expressed admiration for the fine pool and its clear-blue water.

Coach Glendon Stanley, manager of the pool, commenced swimming classes Tuesday morning for youngsters, and 36 enrolled. First adult class will register Friday, 9 to 11 a.m.

West Liberty's newest community enterprise was the topic of a page-one feature in The Courier-Journal Tuesday. Gerald Griffin of the Courier-Journal's Eastern Kentucky Bureau was here Saturday to take photographs of the opening. He used them to illustrate a story by Helen Price Stacy. Papers in Lexington, Ashland and Huntington also featured the new cooperatively-built pool in Saturday and Sunday editions.

The Courier is preparing a list of persons who contributed to building the pool and whose names were inadvertently omitted in the previous lists. For actually so many helped in one way or another that it has been difficult to obtain names of all who helped on the project.

Meanwhile the pool operations committee announced this week that it has been found necessary to ban automobile inner tubes at the pool and ask that people with street shoes not use the walks around the pool. These two measures are deemed necessary as health safety measures.

DEEP TEST WELL ON WHITE OAK

A drilling firm headed by a Mr. Hastings of Paintsville is drilling a deep test well for the Buffalo Oil & Gas Company on the Chris Lykins farm near White Oak Branch near the Morgan-Magoffin line.

Drilling was started two weeks ago and drillers already have penetrated the big lime formation. The location is about 500 yards across White Oak Branch from a producing oil well drilled about 40 years ago but capped and never pumped.

In the Day Branch field near the Morgan-Wolfe line, Raymond Long is down 1,200 feet in a well he is drilling for Crater Rice and others of Paintsville on the Mary E. Wilson farm recently purchased by Alex Adams of Salyersville. The location is about half way up Day Branch from the Bruce Rose well. The well probably will be drilled in next week.

Meanwhile, a fishing job in the head of Day Branch near Pilot Knob has been completed and the driller, Arnold Rice, is down over 800 feet.

JESSE CASSITY PASSES FRIDAY

Jesse Cassity died Friday, July 2, at the age of 75. He was born in Morgan county on Feb. 25, 1879, the son of the late David and Rebecca Brown Cassity.

In 1904 he was married to Vesta Elam and to this union six children were born. Two daughters, Mary and Opal, preceded him in death.

Surviving are his wife and four sons: Carl of Morehead; Ellis of Blair Mills; Ray, Hollansburg, O., and Ivis, New Madison, Ohio. He also leaves two brothers, J. W. Cassity of Wrigley and T. E. Cassity of Blair Mills; and one sister, Myrtle Easterling of Blair Mills, nine grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Mr. Cassity became a member of the West Union Church of Christ of Blair Mills and leaves a good testimony.

Funeral was held Sunday at Oak Hill church in Morgan county with Rev. Gordon Duncan of West Liberty officiating. Burial was in the Cassity cemetery.

Buskirk GI Grosses $6,504 on Farm After 3 Years of On-Farm Training

Vet Now Has 100
Acres, 19 Head
Of Cattle, Tractor

Lloyd Conley of Buskirk, one of the veterans taking institutional on-the-farm training in the Morgan county vo-ag program under the GI Bill of Rights, made $1,612 gross income his first year of farming and increased his income to $6,504 last year.

In the meantime he has purchased 100 acres of land and established 40 acres of ladino-fescue pasture. Also he has increased his livestock herd from five cows in 1951 to 12 cows, six feeder steers and a bull.

After returning from 37 months of service in the armed forces, Conley, now 27, entered on-the-farm training in 1951. He had never managed a farm before, but that year he produced two acres of tobacco, obtained five beef cows, grew 15 acres of corn, harvested 10 acres of hay and had 17 acres of pasture. The year's work brought him gross income of $1,612.

In 1952 he increased his program by adding three cows, buying 100 acres of land, a new tractor and all equipment and establishing 20 acres of ladino-fescue pasture. This made his program that year consist of 2 acres of tobacco, 8 beef cows, 9 acres of corn, 11 acres of hay and 40 acres of pasture. Each of his eight cows produced calves which he grew into baby beefs. His gross income that year was $6,285.

Next year he tended 2.9 acres of tobacco, had 10 beef cows, bought a bull, tended 2 acres of corn, harvested 17 acres of hay and had 40 acres of improved ladino-fescue pasture. And his gross income, despite lower prices, amounted to $6,504.

This year Conley has a program that includes 2.9 acres of tobacco, 12 beef cows, 6 feeder steers, 1 bull, 32 acres of hay, 40 acres of pasture, and he is establishing another 20 acres of ladino-fescue pasture this year. Also each of his 12 beef cows will produce a calf. Thus, the veterans farm training program, according to Paul Williams, his instructor, is helping him to increase his farming activities steadily each year and establish himself in a profitable farming program.

Conley, son of Ervin Conley of Buskirk, is one of 18 veterans taking on-the-farm training in the Morgan county program.

Conley's father, too, is pleased with the interest his son has taken in farming since entering the veterans training program. The younger Conley plans to follow farming as a way of life and plans to buy more land and expand his activities.

Each student in the veterans on-the-farm program spends 4 hours a week in classroom study, and the teacher spends 4 hours a month on the farm of each student to help each carry out the farm practices they study in class.

Each student is required to farm a certain number of units while taking the training, and these units are increased each year as the student advances and expands his operations.

Veterans of the Korean war also are eligible for the training but they must register in a class within two years after discharge or by Aug. 1 of this year.

WINCHESTER NIPS LOCALS BY 6 TO 5

(By RUDY FRANKLIN)

The visiting Winchester Hustlers nipped out the local West Liberty baseballers here Sunday on the strength of a lone tally. The local club fired up a threatening ninth inning rally, scoring four runs and coming within just 90 feet of running across the tying run. Walter Brown led off the final half of the ninth with a walk. Then followed Ratliff's strikeout. B. Blair too was given a free pass. Manager Black hitting for Peltrey lined a double down the left field line scoring Brown and sending Blair to third. Then with the score 6-3 and 1 out and runners on second and third, Franklin was passed intentionally. Manager Black scoring a force out at any base. F. Blair, the next batter, flied deep to centerfield but B. Blair took too much lead and was unable to tag up and score what would have been the tying run. Hammond, the next batter, worked the Winchester pitcher to a three-two count and then smacked what would have been a sure hit between third and short. Black however who was off with the pitch ran directly in front of the batted ball and was unable to avoid the hard bouncer, thus registering the final out and retiring the side.

Walter Brown who relieved Stacy after the first inning was the loser giving up 10 hits and five runs. Stacy, who pitched four innings, won the second inning with a sore arm, gave up two hits and 1 run during the first stanza.

Gay went all the way for the Winchester club and allowed 7 safeties and 5 runs.

Nickell, the local batting with a home run and two singles in four trips. Bobby Haggard paced the winners with a double and a triple in four efforts at the plate.

The local club will travel to Owensville Sunday to tangle with the league leaders.

Homecoming Committee
To Meet Tuesday Night

Officers of the school homecoming committee have scheduled a meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 at Stamper's Restaurant to work out a program and other business of the homecoming.

Date for the annual return of alumni and former students of the Matthew T. Scott Institute and Morgan County high school was set last year for August 21 and 22.

On those two days, the planning committee hopes to have a program worked out that will be the most entertaining one yet.

Anyone interested in planning for the homecoming is invited to attend the meeting.

Officers of the homecoming association are as follows: Luther Blair, president; Myrtle Nickell, vice president; Bernard Whitte, treasurer; Helen Price Stacy, secretary. Others on the planning committee are Mrs. C. K. Stacy, Mrs. Luther Blair, Martha Fanning, Floris Cox, Sonny Rose, Andy Walter.

GARDEN CLUB TO MEET

The West Liberty Garden Club will meet with Mrs. H. D. Potter Friday afternoon, July 9 at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Earl Price as co-hostess. The subject of the meeting will be "Making Cornsages." Any member of the club who has flowers they would like to see made into a corsage, please bring them to the meeting.

RURAL SCHOOLS TO OPEN JULY 26 OTHERS AUG. 30

Supt. Carl Stewart announces that rural schools in Morgan county will begin July 26th.

He said there were a number of vacancies and that emergency teachers will be elected for those schools unable to secure a certified teacher, as soon as regulations of the State superintendent permit.

The superintendent and board have made application to the state for permission to employ emergency teachers where they are unable to secure a certified teacher.

The following teachers have been employed for the West Liberty school: Lloyd Patterson, principal; Nancy Turner, Zola Haney, Dorothy L. Wheeler, Oshie Caskey, Anita P. Blair, Lena Haney, Mabel Amyx, Billie J. Ratliff, Bernice C. Lida Lewis, Reva Henry, Hobart Cassidy, Resvie Wheeler, Mabel Barber, Catherine Walton, Beulah Stanley, Irene Murphy, Elmer Craft, Elmer Anderson, Mildred McLain, Ezra Bach, Arthur Johnson, Estelle Nickell and Glen Stanley.

Woodsbend—Dexter Evans and Eve May.

Bonny—Mayme Risner, Jephtha—Reva Cassidy, Mize—Gladys Nickell, Whites Branch—Elza Motley, Ditony—Beulah Gibson, Wrigley—Byron Lewis, Lena Ratliff, Avonelle Kinmer, Lanta Whitte, Jennie Hemphill, Crockett—Hazel Skaggs, Claudia Rowland, Kermit Skaggs, Arlene Wheeler, Lexie Ferguson, Reva Beulhimer.

Paragon—Iva L. Stevens, Cannel City—Daisy Nickell, Thelma Patrick, Manilla Riser, George Lacy, Dorothy Collins, Ronald Perkins.

Consolidated schools at West Liberty, Crockett, Cannel City, Woodsbend and Wrigley will open August 30th.

TB X-ray Unit To In West Liberty Tuesday, July 20

It is possible to have tuberculosis and not know it, according to Morgan County Health Department. That's why they urge every Morgan county over 15 to get a chest x-ray while the State Department of Health's Mobile X-ray Unit is in town.

The unit will be parked at the court house square July 20 from 9 to 12 and 1 to 3 o'clock.

The health department stresses early diagnosis of tuberculosis in order to cure the disease.

Mass chest x-ray exams, such as the one scheduled in Morgan, often reveal tuberculosis in one before other symptoms appear.

It is possible to have tuberculosis at any age, the health department points out. However, he adds that the incidence in the five to fifteen age group is low. That is why children are given x-rays only if they are known to have been in direct contact with tuberculosis. The survey must include as many persons as possible of the older age groups.

DOG LAW HELD UP TO AUG. 1ST

FRANKFORT, Ky., July 3—The Dog Law Advisory Committee appointed this week by Gov. Lawrence Wetherby has extended to Aug. 1 the effective date of the State's new dog law.

It was to have become effective Thursday. Delay in organizing the enforcement system, including appointment of county dog wardens, was responsible for the postponement.

The committee yesterday appointed Wayland Rhodes, Fayette county farmer and retired Army colonel, to administer the law.

He will work with the division of licensing of the State Agricultural Department. The department is charged with administration of the law, except for rabies vaccination, which is handled by the State Health Department.

Under the new law, the county wardens will issue dog licenses, sell tags and collect fees. Until new license certificates and tags are available, the committee recommended that sheriffs continue to sell licenses as long as their supplies last.

TO RECEIVE DEGREE

Lowell K. Ratliff of Morgan county will receive the Master of Arts degree at Morehead State College summer commencement Aug. 5.

Hard Showers Cause Heavy Soil Losses In County, Agent Says

By County Agent Charlie Dixon

You may have noticed that some of the hard showers this summer have caused many fields to wash. Other fields that are cultivated with the necessary water control measures have washed very little. Do you have any idea what erosion such as this costs?

Well, these losses have been measured and here is what a recent release of information said. "Actual field tests on 12 to 16 percent slopes made at various soil experiment stations have shown that planting corn on the contour saved up to 69 pounds of nitrogen, 103.8 pounds of phosphorus, and 722.8 pounds of potash per acre per year. Without contouring these quantities of the fertilizing elements were drained away in water and sediment run-off. The loss per acre ran from $25 to $75 an acre, meaning losses of $500 to $1,000 for 25 acres of corn planted on a 12 percent slope."

It is not hard to find fields in this county that have had just such losses this year. Hard beating rains have been known to splash loose as much as 100 tons of soil per acre during a shower.

James Arnold Tyler of West Liberty, who has been a member of the State Revenue Department in Frankfort since 1949, last week was named by the Kentucky Legislative Research Commission as the chief reviser of Kentucky statutes. Tyler, 32, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tyler of West Liberty and graduated from the College of Law at the University of Kentucky in 1949. He served in the Air Force during World War II.

4 ROAD PROJECTS ARE ADVERTISED

The State Highway Department this week advertised for bids for the reconstruction and traffic bound surfacing of 5.8 miles of the Wellington-Pomeroyton road in Menifee and Morgan counties.

Bids are to be opened July 23 in Frankfort.

The project extends from US 460 at Wellington by way of Pomeroyton to north end of the Pomeroyton-Wolfe county line road and includes Broken spur from 1.4 miles southeast of Wellington to US 460.

The project is one of 94 advertised for letting July 23. The projects in nearby counties include—

Rowan county—The Morehead-Leisure road beginning 9 miles south of Morehead near Paragon and extending to the Morgan county line near Craney, 6.8 miles, grade, drain and traffic bound surfacing.

LYNN B. WELLS
IN RETROSPECT

You no doubt have noticed in the daily papers that Morgan county will receive $15,362.00 less for the schools in 1954 than they received in 1953. Also that every pauper county in the State of Kentucky will receive less than they did last year.

When the amendment was up for a vote I called your attention through the Licking Valley Courier that it would increase your taxes and you would not get more money for the schools unless your taxes were increased.

You no doubt have seen in the daily press where stores have been increased 100 percent in assessment and land and practically all kinds of property have been increased in Morgan county for 1954.

There are 95 pauper counties in Kentucky that pay less money into the State than they receive from it, and there are 25 counties that pay more into the State Treasury than they receive from it.

Now what I was telling you was that you could not take the money from the prospective counties and support the foundation program in the 95 pauper counties.

As a member of the General Assembly I voted against the tax law where they can raise your property from Frankfort, Ky. I did not believe this was right.

You will recall by looking over my record as county attorney, county judge and State representative that I fought for your interests in holding down your taxes.

Now I think that FOUNDATION PROGRAM is a good thing for the State, but we will have to pay for a good part of it out of local taxes. I have always been for better schools, roads and everything that was for the betterment of Morgan county.

I want you to look back at my stand on public issues and you will find that I have never gone with the crowd, but have stood by the little man that can't help himself. This I intend to do as long as I have the strength to do it.

Your Friend and Neighbor,
LYNN B. WELLS, Atty.

DAR To Unveil Marker At Thomas Lewis Grave

Two Clubs Seek To Prevent Cutting On Trees In Court Yard

The Morgan County Woman's Club and the West Liberty Garden Club took joint action this week to protect the trees and shrubs on the courthouse lawn set out by the Woman's Club when it beautified the court yard a few years ago.

It was discovered recently that some person or persons had been cutting on the young trees in the court yard and also cutting the branches from them, maybe to whittle on. Anyway, the two clubs appointed a joint committee to investigate and protect the trees. Members of the committee are Mrs. C. K. Stacy, Mrs. Rol and Stacy and Mrs. J. L. Blair.

Beautifying the courthouse lawn has added greatly to the appearance of the town and the project was done at considerable expense and time. The ladies request that people take care of the young trees, explaining that cutting limbs from the trees may ruin them.

Revolutionary War
Soldier's Grave Is Located At Pomp

A granite headstone marker will be unveiled Sunday at 2 p.m. at the grave of Thomas Lewis, Revolutionary War soldier, in the old Lewis cemetery on the farm of Ormand Lewis at Pomp by the Morgan County chapter Daughters of the American Revolution.

The Lewis cemetery is on a beautiful wooded knoll a hundred yards or so off Ky. 7 at the home of Ormand Lewis three miles north of West Liberty not far from the mouth of Elkfork.

It is near where the old soldier settled when he came to Morgan county from Virginia after the Revolutionary War. His grave and the original headstone were located recently by members of the Lewis family and officials of the DAR local chapter.

Lewis was born in Wales May 3, 1755, emigrated to America and married Hannah Hopkins in Virginia. He fought during the Revolution in Company A of Col. Campbell's Regiment in the Virginia Line. After the war he moved to Morgan county and settled near the mouth of Elkfork. He died in 1849.

A kinsman of Meriwether Lewis of Lewis and Clark fame, the Revolutionary War soldier was one of Morgan county's early settlers and was the progenitor of the large Lewis family in this section. His descendants are numbered by the hundreds in this and adjoining counties.

Lewis was one of 14 Revolutionary War soldiers buried in Morgan and his will be the second grave to be marked by the local DAR. A marker was unveiled last year at the grave of Joseph Carter, Sr. at Old Grassy.

The unveiling ceremonies at Pomp, like those at Old Grassy, will be unique in that nearly everyone who will take part is a direct descendant of the old soldier.

Clyde Lewis of Ashland, great-grandson, will act as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Reed Prichard of Ashland, great-granddaughter, will unveil the marker. Mrs. William Howell of Mt. Sterling, a descendant, will place a wreath on the grave. Henry Wells, great-great-grandson, will give a family history as will Frank Lewis, grandson of the soldier. Mrs. Clara Allen will lead in giving the pledge to the flag. Ronald McKenzie, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor McKenzie, of West Liberty, and a great great grandson, will serve as flag carrier.

Mrs. W. E. Bach of Lexington, State DAR Historian, will place the flag on the grave.

The Morgan county DAR chapter will conduct its ritual with Mrs. Katherine Amyx as regent. Mrs. C. K. Stacy is chaplain and organizing regent.

FOREST FIELD DAY SET 24TH

The East Kentucky Forestry Field Day, scheduled for July 24 on Highway 114, near the Floyd-Magoffin line promises to be the biggest event in forestry preservation in Eastern Kentucky that has occurred to this time, it was said last week when a group of leaders interested in forest preservation met at the county agent's office in Prestonsburg. Not only will the meet, which should attract several hundred, offer instruction in pulpwood preparation by a representative of the Mead Corporation, demonstration of how to fell a tree with modern mechanical saws and follow with wild life exhibits but prominent speakers interested in forestry will be there. James A. Newman, Extension Service Forester, will be master of ceremonies.

Chief purpose of the meet is to arouse interest in preserving East Kentucky's watershed forests by organizing a Forest Improvement Association. H. B. Newland, State Director of Forestry, will speak as will W. C. Johnstone, Agricultural Representative, Kentucky Bankers Association.

Forest Ranger Forrest Burchett of Floyd county has arranged to have Old Smokey, the forestry bear, on the grounds. Entertainment features of the day will be a shingle and piling making exhibition by 64-year-old John Henry Canterbury, who has made plenty of them in his life, a cross-cut sawing and chopping contest with double-bitted axes.

Scene of the Field Day will be the Adams school grounds on the Middle Creek Road, eleven miles from Prestonsburg, and midway to Salyersville. Extension workers, Conservation Service Representatives and other interested groups plan to attend. Formal organization of a forest improvement association will end the day's activities.

Get a chest x-ray. If the adults are protected the children will be.

Growers Advised To Sow Plant Beds In Soybeans For 1955

Tobacco growers are advised to sow their tobacco beds in soybeans in preparation of the 1955 crop, County Agent Charlie Dixon repeated today.

The Agricultural Experiment station has found that even in plant bed sights that are used for many years there is less wildfire, if they are sowed in soybeans as soon as the plants are all re-moved and the beans are worked into the soil about the first of September. Authorities theorize that the soybeans scald out all other weeds and therefore all material on which the wildfire germs can live except the soy-bean roots themselves. If the beans are worked into the soil in the fall the roots soon rot and leave nothing on which the germs can live. If the bed site is well ditched at that time so that no surface water can run over the bed site then the bed site will be relatively free of the wildfire or-ganism. The experiment station has also found that plowing the bed in the fall also decreases the disease in the bed.

These practices worked per-fectly for Frankie Jackson, Mize, and Victor Conley, Lacy Creek, in demonstrations on their beds the past year.

If the same bed site is to be used continuously something must be allowed to grow to maintain the organic matter and soil con-ditioner. Soybeans work wonder-fully in this way.

The amount of seed soybeans that is to be sowed is ordinarily 15 pounds on a 100x9 foot bed. However, the Experiment Station has warned that many soybeans has a low germination this year. Mr. Dixon advised farmers to check the germination on the seed tag. If the germination is below 80% the amount of beans should be increased to 20-25 pounds for each 100x9 foot bed. The beans must be thick enough to scald out all other growth.

Morgan Countian Graduates In Ohio

Mrs. Era Nell Hamilton Black, formerly of Cottle, was gradu-ated from the University of Ak-ron June 15 and was awarded a Bachelor of Science degree in Education.

Mrs. Black is a graduate of Morgan County high school in the class of 1950 and has had college work at Bob Jones University in Greenville, S. C. and at More-head College and has had the past year at the University of Akron. She has made the honor roll all through high school and college. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Hamilton. There were almost 400 gradu-ates. Dr. Raymond Walter, presi-dent of the University of Cincin-nati, gave the graduating address. Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Hamilton and Paula of Cottle attended the exercises.

LOZANO-MAY VOWS SAID IN TEXAS

June 6 marked the wedding day of Miss Mary Louise Lozano of San Antonio, Texas, and Darrel May, formerly of West Liberty. The vows were exchanged at St. Cecilia's Catholic Church in San Antonio, and a reception followed at Beethoven Home. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. May, now of Fairborn, Ohio.

Withholding Law In Effect July 1st

Kentucky's new withholding law on state income taxes started July 1. Employers are required to withhold Kentucky income tax from all salaries and wages paid to employees after that date. State withholding will operate very much like Federal withholding.

During each pay period em-ployers will withhold the tax from each paycheck, based on the salary earned and number of de-pendents. At the end of the year the employee must file a tax re-turn as in the past, but by that time he will have paid most of his tax through withholding. This year, however, since the law will be in effect for only six months, only about half of most employees' tax will be paid by withholding. Employers who have not yet received an instruction booklet on withholding or a Kentucky in-come tax code number should contact the Income Division, De-partment of Revenue, here. Other questions will be answered by the division or district offices located in Louisville, Lexington, Ashland, Covington and Paducah.

KENTUCKY POLL SHOWS CONCERN OVER UNEMPLOYMENT

Senator Earle C. Clements this week made public the results of a poll he has been conducting among the people of Kentucky showing that those polled place unemployment as the most important issue facing the country today.

Ranking close to unemployment was the issue of foreign policy. Farm prices and communism in Government were other issues receiving recognition.

The figures showed 36 per cent rating unemployment as the top issue; 31 per cent, foreign policy; 15 per cent, farm prices; 11 per cent, communism in government; and 4 per cent of those polled rating other problems as primary issues of the day.

In a series of questions on other issues, overwhelming percentages voted in favor of continuing the Reciprocal Trade program and for the need for a new code of Congressional Committee procedures in light of the proceedings at the Army-McCarthy hearings. The Reciprocal Trade program received 74 per cent support and the Committee procedure changes was favored by 79 per cent.

On the question of continuing the present farm price support program at 90 per cent of parity, 62 per cent voted favorably, while 24 per cent returned their polls marked for a sliding scale of from 75 to 90 per cent.

A majority of 60 per cent favor balancing the budget before reducing taxes, but if taxes are to be reduced by Congress, the greater majority, 66 per cent, supported increasing personal exemptions, while 18 per cent favored increasing exemptions on income from stocks and dividends.

The poll showed fairly even results on two issues, the need for a public works program in face of present economic difficulties and changes in present labor laws. A public works program was favored by 46 per cent and opposed by the same number. The poll showed that 35 per cent believe the present labor laws are too favorable to management and 40 per cent believed the laws too favorable to labor.

The majority of those answering the poll did not favor sending American troops to Indo China either to protect French colonialism or in case the French government should grant independence to the Indo-Chinese. Only 11 per cent supported using troops to continue French domination of the southeast Asian nation and 30 per cent favored the use of troops in case the French give freedom to the people of Viet Nam, Laos, and Cambodia.

SENATE GROUP IS FOR 90% PARITY

Something-for-everybody seems to be the shape of things in Washington as Congress struggles to write farm bills that will please the farmers and the Administration at the same time.

The 8-to-7 vote of the Senate Agriculture Committee in favor of continuing 90 percent of parity supports on basic crops was exactly what had been expected. The vote was interpreted as a defeat for the Administration.

Actually, that vote was just one step in the progress toward farm legislation in this session of Congress.

The decisions won't be made until the joint House-Senate conference committee sits down to iron out the differences between the bills that each will develop.

All sorts of ideas have been tossed into the bills in both houses. The Senate committee last week tentatively approved one that would give Secretary Benson authority to put fruits and vegetables for canning and freezing under marketing orders if 50 percent of the canners and freezers agree.

Included in the marketing orders would be terms that would fix the size of standard cans and other containers.

Canners and freezers have been protesting they don't want such legislation, and the House committee struck out of its bill a similar provision which the Administration had requested.

The Administration continues to find itself in the embarrassing position of preaching against controls and having to put into force the strongest controls ever imposed on the nation's farmers.

This contradiction seems to lead a great deal of confusion even at the highest levels of the United States Department of Agriculture. This was evident in the speech by Undersecretary True D. Morse before the National Poultry Improvement Plan conference at Washington last week.

The controls on wheat farmers and the cross-compliance rule are a bad thing, Morse said, because they will mean letting some of the nation's most fertile land lie idle and reduce profits for farmers and thus tend to slow the expansion of the total economy.

VACATION IN MICHIGAN

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Potter and son Marling returned a few days ago from their vacation in Michigan. While there they visited Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Childers, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Falor and Mr. and Mrs. Curt Salyer. They visited and saw many places of interest including the Ford Museum, and spent one day in Windsor, Canada. At one of the Detroit hotels they heard Marvin Franklin, son of Henry Franklin of Malone, play in the Danny Richard orchestra. On Sunday they had a picnic celebrating the birthday of Mrs. Maxie Salyer in one of the parks and also visited the zoo. Mr. Potter caught a number of fish. They also visited Niagara Falls.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

ABOUT HOMECOMING, FISHING, NEWSPAPERS

To Publisher, Fishin Editor, et al:

There are several things we have to talk about, such as homecomings, fishing, liars, and other things, but let's take first and most important things to begin.

HOMECOMING. I note in last week's paper that there will soon be a meeting of the officers and others to discuss plans for this year's event which, I believe, will be held August 21st and 22nd. It's a little late to try it this year but in my opinion we ought to try to enlarge this homecoming to the extent that it will equal or surpass the Hazel Green affair. I believe that I, as well as others, have suggested this before with very little interest being shown so far. It seems to me that if the business and professional people of West Liberty would get behind and move we might be able to put it over to a great success. Your paper has done a wonderful service in obtaining other things (playground, swimming pool, baseball, etc.) so why not back this affair. I am firmly convinced that, given the right kind of backing, we could make this a three or four day affair which would equal or surpass any of those presently being held in Kentucky. Think it over and talk about it.

Fishin Editor: I haven't been fishing much this spring because I have been devoting my time to training my young bird dog. The other day I had him out by a pond and he made a point right at the water's edge. I looked all around but there was no sign of birds and only a small clump of grass where a bird could hide. I kicked in the grass but nothing happened so I said, "Come on, Mike. There is nothing there. He wouldn't let go. So I kicked some more and when nothing happened, I said, "Get 'em Mike." Mike jumped in the pond and came out with a three-pound bass. I cut the bass open and there was a half grown quail in his innards. Just goes to show how a combination fisherman-bird hunter can do with a bird dog.

That fish tale about the big one at Gordon Ford is a fairy tale. That big one left those waters in 1914 and came down river to the Potter Bend where Jim Dennis and I caught him in August 1914. Sorry I haven't mentioned it before so as to stop all these wild tales going around. He only weighed thirty-four pounds.

MY SUBSCRIPTION: I'm sure my subscription is about to expire so I'm enclosing a check for renewal. Same old address.

GREETINGS: I'd like to take this opportunity to say hello to all my friends and relatives in and around West Liberty and to make an appeal to all who can possibly do so to attend the homecoming. It's an honor and a privilege to be a part of it. Let's go fellows and gals, and fill the town to overflowing.

APPLAUSE: I haven't mentioned it before but I think your paper deserves a blue ribbon for the manner in which you handle the news, letters, etc. which are submitted. It's a wonderful thing to be able to turn out a good newspaper.

With kindest personal regards to each and all.

The Courier—
We sincerely appreciate all the letters we received from all over the U. S. while my brother was so seriously ill, especially one from Oscar Riffe, one of Sam's old chums. We wish to thank all of them. So I believe we should let them know through the wonderful paper that Sam Carter is much better, has gone back to work and we are all very thankful, for through these prayers he was spared. We thank God for his many blessings.

Very gratefully,

Enclosed you will find payment for a piece about our baby Miriam who died of leukemia two years ago.

I enjoy reading the home town paper so much as we don't get to come home very much. I thought the story about Carol Carpenter was wonderful. You see I've known her all my life and I think she is about the bravest lady I've ever known. We were sorry to read about Carol's operation. We wish her lots of luck.

Keep the home town paper coming as we enjoy it so much.

The Courier—
As we grow older and our minds seem to wander in the past, instead of looking forward to the future; it is not until then that we begin to evaluate the events of yesteryear and enumerate the many friends with whom we were associated in our younger life. Not until in recent years have I come to realize and appreciate the many friends with whom I grew up in Morgan county around the turn of the century.

The influence of such an outstanding class of people, their honesty and integrity and devotion to each other has been an inspiration throughout my whole life. In all my experience through thirty-two different states have I found people with such a respect for the rights and feelings of their fellow-man as exists in Morgan county, where people reverence their word and obligations with sincerity; where people decide controversial questions with a "God-guided" conscience and a clear-cut distinction between right and wrong and the rights of others.

Never have I found people so devoted to each other in all of my travels as there are in Morgan county. I now remember the many times that my friends came to my rescue in times of need in younger life when it was a struggle to earn a living. In those days people were poor and no one had an abundance of anything, but everyone was eager to lend a helping hand and to assist those who were in need of help. Their conception of living a useful life was to be able and willing to lend a helping hand to those who were in need, even at a sacrifice to themselves.

I am sure that the same feeling exists there today as it did in those days and would extend to me the same accommodations today if I were to ask for them. It is gratifying to know that I was brought up under such an influence that has guided me, in making many decisions, from which I have made many friends as playing the game square in a highly commercialized world. The oil business, with which I have been closely associated since leaving Morgan county in 1915, is a highly speculative business where almost everyone is looking for an opportunity to take advantage of his competitors and enhance the value of their own holdings. I can truthfully say that this has never been a temptation to me, to misrepresent anything or to try to mislead one of constituents in any deal relating to the oil business.

In the promoting and drilling of more than two hundred wells in the search for oil all the way from Texas to West Virginia, as far as I know I do not have an enemy among the many who have invested their money with me in these ventures; from the fact that I made a conscientious explanation of the possibilities and they have been satisfied that I made an honest effort and that my anticipation did not materialize.

Not all of my efforts were failures, and I have many friends today who invested money with me that profited by so doing and are grateful to me for my efforts in their behalf. In some instances these ventures were profitable to me; in others I took a loss. With all the many experiences that I have had I can say that I have no regrets or apologies to make to anyone and I enjoyed it all immensely. It is a consolation to know that I had my chances to make a successful career in life that many people do not have. I do not feel that my efforts were in vain, as I have made many lifelong friends that I would not have made otherwise. It is gratifying now to know that I played the game square and willfully wronged no one; therefore, my conscience is clear and I have no regrets or apologies to make.

I like to refer to my early training and the lessons which I learned from the good people in Morgan county in the art of fair play and the respect for other people's rights. I have practiced these traits in all my operations and I have the respect of all my constituents.

FARM AND HOME FIELD DAY SET FOR BLAIRS MILLS ON AUGUST 6

Plans for the ninth annual Morgan County Farm and Home Field Day were set up at a meeting of representatives of the County Extension Advisory Committee with the county and home agents Monday, June 21.

The Field Day will be held on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Cassidy near the Oak Hill school in the Blairs Mills community Friday, Aug. 6. Demonstrations of various variety tests in corn and tobacco, fertilizer tests on corn and meadows, insect control remedies and tree killing materials will feature the agricultural interests. Farmers will see the grass land program and Mr. Cassidy's cow and calf beef cattle herd. Many good farming practices will be seen.

The very latest equipment in canning and freezing foods will be demonstrated by Miss Ann Stevens, the home demonstration agent.

There will be a panel discussion in the afternoon featuring successful growers of strawberries, sorghum, beans and sheep and including County Judge Reed Halsey who will discuss new and additional sources of income for farmers of the county.

Music will be furnished during the noon hour by the Oak Hill quartet.

Farm families are advised to mark this date of August 6 on their calendars and clear their schedule for this day and attend.

Ray Wells of Dayton was visiting here during the 4th. Ray says he greatly enjoys the fishing news. Jack Dixon who works for him in Dayton, according to Ray went fishing caught 35 catfish. We prefer not to mention the bait he used.

Frank Lewis who is 93 strong and healthy, was on the streets the 4th and said the largest fish he ever caught was a catfish that weighed 5 pounds. Adding that Jo Allen told him the other day he saw the large catfish at Gordon Ford swim out from under a rock and go across the river. Mr. Lewis says he doubts some of the fish tales.

Judge John Keck, Blaine Nickell, W. M. Gardner, M. B. Whitt, Custer Jones and W. H. Wells spent some time Monday on the porch at the Cole Hotel rehearsing many of the interesting happenings of the last twenty-five years in law and order and other things of human interest. Such stories would make interesting features if they were written.

A. T. Spradling of Ezel was in the Courier office Monday. He said that he enjoyed the fishing news and about Bill Henry and Marion Lawson. He says both are good fellows. He thinks there are some more things about Bill Henry's fishing that we should know.

Carl Whitaker of Malone was in town Thursday and said he enjoyed the writeup about the new road to Gordon Ford but not believe in the big catfish.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Blair drove over the road the other day and said they enjoyed the drive and that it was their first trip in this part for 34 years. It could be Luther was looking about the catfish.

FREE X-RAY UNIT HERE JULY 20TH

Free chest x-rays will be available to Morgan countians July 20 when the Tuberculosis X-ray Mobile Unit of the Kentucky State Department of Health visits West Liberty.

The unit will be parked in front of the courthouse square from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. All persons over fifteen years of age are urged to make sure they do not have tuberculosis by having a chest x-ray. The service is being made available through the cooperation of the Kentucky State Department of Health, the Morgan County Health Department and the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association.

According to the local health department, tuberculosis took at least 1,017 lives in Kentucky last year.

Nearly half of all new cases of tuberculosis in Kentucky are being discovered through these mass x-ray programs, he said. The units tour throughout the state and approximately 170,000 persons get chest x-rays annually under the program.

Persons under fifteen years are x-rayed only if they are known to have been in direct contact with persons who have tuberculosis or upon a physician's referral as the tuberculosis rate among this younger group is quite low.

Black-Smallwood Vows Said In Waynesville, O.

Arrangement of pastel flowers, palms and seven tiered candelabra decorated the Bellbrook Methodist church in Ohio for the wedding of Miss Patricia Louise Black and Mr. Morris Floyd Smallwood on June 5. Rev. Turner Ritenour of Princeton, N. J., formerly of Bellbrook, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Black of Bellbrook are the bride's parents, and Mr. Smallwood is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Smallwood of Waynesville, Ohio.

A program of nuptial music was presented.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride spoke her vows in a flower length gown of white. The sweetheart necklace was scalloped and embroidered in sequins below the yoke of illusion tulle. The long lace sleeves came to points over the hands. The full skirt formed bellows from the waistline with diagonal inserts of laces scalloped with the tulle godet. The skirt extended into a long cathedral train. The finger tip veil was caught to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white orchid corsage surrounded by white roses.

Mrs. Donald O. Middleton of Bellbrook, matron of honor, wore a gown of light green net over taffeta with a lace jacket. Misses Shirley Sieber, Sandra Black and Carolyn Conner were bridesmaids and wore frocks of yellow, pink and blue net over taffeta with lace jackets. Cathy Hallahan, the flower girl, wore light pink dotted swiss. Bobby Smallwood, the groom's nephew, was ringbearer. Clyde Smallwood, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Joe Smallwood of Waynesville, Robert Morris and Dick Black, brother of the bride. A reception was held at Highview Terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. Smallwood left on a wedding trip to Lake Erie and are now residing in their new home in Red Oak Drive, Beaver Creek Acres.

Mrs. Smallwood was graduated from Bellbrook high school. Mr. Smallwood was graduated from Waynesville high school and is employed at the NCR in Dayton, Ohio. The Smallwoods are former residents of West Liberty.

removed by merely substituting "This much I know" for "I'm glad 'tis so."

May I repeat that such detailed criticism is given for the benefit of those who wish to improve their poetry, not merely for the sake of tearing the poem apart. I am well aware that a poet like Emily Dickinson can write excellent poetry in spite of many such technical errors as I have pointed out in the above poem. But how many Emily Dickinsons do you know?

PERSONALS

Mountain Muses

Edited By JOHN D. ENGLE, JR.
Send all poems to Mr. Engle
326 Woodland Ave., Lexington, Ky.

Bernard Hager, a faithful contributor to M.M. has sent an interesting poem which deals with the theme of seedtime and harvest. Note the easy simplicity of the expression which is a mark of Mr. Hager's style. But note also the depth of meaning which lies beneath this simplicity, especially after you have read the last line of the poem:

REAPING TIME

In our joyful days of spring
When sowing must be done,
We never know what fall will bring
Till the reaping time has come.
Summer days are on the wane,
The brightest of the year.
Will it mean your loss or gain
When reaping times appear?
Each will reap his crops on time
In the fall. I'm glad 'tis so.
So truly then we stay in line
To reap just what we sow.
In wintry days we stand the test
Of the kind of seed that's sown.
Dear reaper, may you reap the best
In fields to me unknown.

Technically speaking, the words "done-come," in stanza 2 do not rhyme. The same is true of "time-line" in stanza 3. Also in stanza 3 the words, "so-sow" are closer to being identities than true rhymes. It is not good to have two "so's" coming together, "tis so—so truly." Of course the word "tis," in this stanza should never be used. It is an outworn, obsolete poeticism which should be buried and forgotten. These three last mentioned faults could be

FLORESS— SOME THOUGHTS ON JULY 4TH

FLORESS, Ky., July 4.—(By Nora Easterling)—On this Fourth of July, 1954, I am in deep meditation concerning the meaning of independence, which our forefathers fought and died for, and the youth of our country have fought and died for up through the year. We are still giving our sons and daughters up to stand guard for our freedom and independence. It is with a sadness of heart when I hear of confusion and division among our people in this great land of the free. Do we appreciate the suffering and dying of those brave ones who have stood the cruelty of war, loneliness from loved ones, weeping in their pillow, crying out to God from trenches when wounded, no loving hand to carry their brow. Let's think! Do we appreciate them as we should? We are here safe from the havoc of wars, but my heart reaches out to all boys and girls who are sharing their lives to help keep our country "a land of the free and a home of the brave." Let us ever pray that we may be able to treat our fellow citizens as to the purpose George Washington had in mind, when he prayed in battle for the freedom of this great country of ours. For—"Together we stand, divided we fall."

A large crowd attended the burial of Johnnie McClure at the Lacey cemetery here.

Elders Arlie Nickell and Walter

Easterling attended church at Jones Creek Saturday and Sunday.

Honeymoon Holar was a lively place June 27th when relatives of our citizens began coming in. Those visiting were Mr. and Mrs. James P. Johnson of Cow Branch, Elder and Mrs. Walter Johnson of Cottle, Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Ferguson and Mrs. Leonard Elam of Index, Russell, Eddie and Marvin Conley of Matthew, Jessie, Ethel Mae, Betty and James Herbert Johnson of Cow Branch, Anna Ree, Chester, Clinton, Mary Etta, Essie Gay, Alfred Grant and Johnnie Johnson of Cottle, Tressie, Monie, Ollie Boyd and James B. Ferguson of Index and Dora Easterling. Naomi Conley, who has been visiting relatives at Cow Branch, has returned to James C. Conley's. Walter Conley of Matthew visited her Saturday.

Remember...

Only an electric range is ALL electric!

Electric lights are a sign of being modern ... but it takes more than electric lights, timers, or clocks to make a range that's as modern as a range can be. It takes electric cooking units to do that. And only an ELECTRIC range has them.

Every 27 seconds of every day, another American family switches to an all-modern all-electric range. You too will find that electric cooking is the cleanest, coolest, most modern cooking you ever tried. See your electric range dealer today.

... but it's the electric cooking units that make a range truly modern!

GRASSY CREEK
(By J. M. Gevedon)

July 5—Among the recent visitors at the home of the writer and family were Boyd Abbott of Falmouth, O., Mr. and Mrs. Jim Louis Carter, daughter, Ruby and girl friend, of Middletown, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Davy Green Stacy of Stacy Fork; Mr. and Mrs. Charley Horton of Fairfield, Ill.; Mrs. Victoria Tutt and a Mr. Brewer of Campton; I. B. Byrd of Salt Lick; Cpl. Paul Tutt of the U. S. Marines; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Byrd and children and Mr. and Mrs. Junior Casey and children of Dayton, O.; Mr. and Mrs. John Gevedon of Rexville; Mds. Dora Short, Lucy Wills and Belle Hausman of Middletown, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dickerson and two daughters, of Covington; Mrs. Nolda Vaughn and Roy F. Davis of Ironton, O.; The Cannos from Scranton; the Junior Elams, West Liberty; Nina Gevedon of Ashland; Lula Gevedon, Arthur Ross, George Stewart, Silie Ferguson and the Deward Adamases.

The writer and son Noel spent part of last week visiting in Ashland and Ironton, O. We enjoyed a pleasurable Thursday evening with a party of friends boat riding and picnicking in Wildwood Park at Ashland.

The long continued drought was broken here this Monday with plenty of thunder, wind, some hail, and not too much rain.

I have toured over quite a lot the country in the last few weeks and have given attention to the crops along the way, especially tobacco, and of that crop I found none to equal the tobacco growing round about Grassy Lick community.

Mr. and Mrs. Estill Gevedon and most of their children and grandchildren spent Sunday at the Carter Caves.

Bill Thall, heard on his own "Bill Thall Show," Monday through Friday at 2:15 p.m., EST, and the comic emcee of "Midwestern Hayride" every Saturday beginning at 6:30 p.m., EST, interests his future family in his picture appearing in the July issue of "Radio-TV Mirror." Bill will marry Mrs. Virginia Gridley, a widow, shown with her three children, Roger S. Melissa, 1, and Carla, 10. Bill has two children, Diane, 16, and Bobby, 12. Bill's first wife died two years ago.

FIRST VISIT IN 22 YEARS

Carl Kendall, who installed many lines and phones for the old West Liberty telephone company when it was owned and operated by Wilmore Kendall, was here Sunday from his home in Detroit—his first visit back to Morgan in 22 years. And he noted many changes and improvements.

Morgan county countryside are beautiful and the town has improved immensely, he said. But the greatest improvement he noted was in roads. He drove over to Lenox and remembered he helped install the telephone line over there and had to ride a horse. Now there are good roads in all communities of the county.

Mr. Kendall is with the Chrysler Corporation in Detroit. He and Mrs. Kendall and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kendall of Detroit, came to Lexington to spend two days with his brother, Rev. J. B. Kendall and wife. They all drove to West Liberty Sunday and spent the day. They visited Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Stacy and Mr. and Mrs. Roland Stacy while here.

MAKES HIGH GRADES

Russell Lewis, 25, son of Mrs. Lula Lewis of Liberty Road, a graduate of Morgan county high school, entered the University of Kentucky last fall after serving two years in the Army. As a freshman his grades were 11 A's and one B, with a total credit of 39 college hours. It is believed that this is a record for any Morgan county student.

SCHOOL NEWS

Ezel School

One of the finest schools in Kentucky is located at Ezel.

The school plant consists of an auditorium and gymnasium, home ec rooms in basement, the main school building which includes the library, one of the finest high school libraries in Eastern Kentucky, office of the principal and class rooms.

There is an elementary school building back of the main building and a building which houses the farm shop and the agricultural class rooms. There is a nice playground with equipment.

All rooms are well equipped with fixtures and teaching material.

Transportation is provided free to all pupils who ride the school buses.

The school teaches all school courses as provided in similar high schools in accordance with the law and regulations governing high schools. The teachers are college graduates and many have had experience in other states or foreign countries and bring to the classes a wealth of high education and varied experiences.

Students in the Future Farmer of America program have made outstanding records, and under their instructor Albert Dorsey have added thousands of dollars to their farm income and information essential to the successful operation of a farm and a farm program.

The principal, W. E. Heagan, has a master's degree from the University of Kentucky and is recognized as an outstanding educator and administrator. He has been at Ezel for a number of years and has the full respect and confidence of the students and patrons. Much of the growth and development of the school have taken place since he has been principal.

The school has a good music program and last year had a band instructor from Morehead State College to give instruction. Christian education, which makes for good citizenship and law abiding men and women in addition to the moral and spiritual values, is given to the students and its good effect can be pointed out to dozens of men and women in everyday walks of life who have graduated from the Ezel High School.

Home economics classes prepare the girls for better home making and teaches them to do the things better that most will be required to do when they have a home and family of their own.

The principal's annual report of the Ezel school gives the following information which is very interesting—

For the school year ending June 30, 1954, there 447 children enrolled. In addition, 29 pupils re-entered from other schools making total of 476 pupils. During the year 43 pupils moved away, became too old or for some reason left school. Of this number 182 were in junior and senior high school, making Ezel a good size high school. The daily average percent attendance was 89 percent, based on the entire school. The senior high school had an average attendance of 94 percent.

There were six boys and 11 girls graduating from the high school in May. The school is organized 1 to 6 grades elementary schools, 7 to 9 grades junior high and 10 to 12 senior high.

There are 4 elementary teachers and 5 high school teachers. (Note: This is the first of a series of articles, "Know Your Schools," by Bernard E. Whitt.)
